

Voting Held This Week

Elections were in order this week as student government on campus rolled into high gear.

The freshman class chose Paul Wilken as its first president in balloting Monday night. Other officers are Jim Carver, vice president; Karen Schardt, secretary; and Carol Johnson, treasurer.

Freshman senators are Jim Steinbrecher, Orville McElfresh and Marianne Lang. A new slate of officers will be chosen second semester.

AT A SENIOR class meeting Wednesday night, Ed Scharlau was chosen vice president; Jackie Lindau, secretary; and Jan Weltzien, treasurer. Dave Grube had been elected president last spring.

Bill Goetz and Lois Max were named graduation co-chairmen, and Miss Erna Moehl, English Department, was elected class adviser. Discussion on the class project was tabled.

Juniors elected Bob Mahoney vice president, Jan Larson secretary and Dick Hanneman treasurer Thursday night. Bob Albers is class president.

IN DORMITORY elections, junior Tom Kuckkahn was chosen president of Clinton Hall, senior Reuben Drefs vice president and senior Corliss Klaassen secretary-treasurer.

Dorm council members are juniors Herbert Bomhoff and Don Sowers and freshmen John Stumme and Roscoe York.

RECENTLY ELECTED to the Women's Coordinating Board are seniors Jean Kriesel, vice president; Marian Stubenvoll and Carolyn Kellogg. Senior Connie Wieckers is president.

Juniors elected are Jane Belton, Judy Holtz and Norma Boyd; and sophomores are Joyce Brenke, Barbara Anderson, Claudette Zwicker, Judy Hammond, Ruth Olson, Harriet Rieck, Karen Moeller, Joan Stewart, Deanna Nickel, Helen Humann and Karen Arns.

Pastor Diers To Talk At Thursday's Convo

College Chaplain Herman Diers will speak Thursday on "Don't Get Involved" at this week's lone convocation.

Friday's 10 a.m. classes will be held at the regular convocation time Tuesday because of the special faculty and Student Body meetings held Friday.

MOM'S AWAY FROM HOME

Mrs. Slack New Housemother

By Carol Stier

The Wartburg family got a new mom this year.

She is Mrs. Arlene Slack, resident head of Wartburg Hall.

With her 16-year-old daughter, Sherrie, Mrs. Slack moved from Waterloo on Aug. 11. Upon occupancy of the director's apartment at Wartburg Hall, the new housemother began preparations for the 1960-61 school term.

Among her many new duties, Mrs. Slack has the position of official representative of the college in her residence hall. She is also concerned with the orderly functioning of dormitory life.

On Sept. 11, the first day of housing registration, Mrs. Slack directed 77 new girls to their rooms from 1-7 p.m.

Nevertheless, she affirms that "this is the type of work I've always wanted, and I enjoy it very much. I've looked forward to it since I knew I was coming here."

Joining her mother's acclamation, Sherrie, junior at Waverly High School, added that she, too likes Wartburg "real well."

When asked whether she considered joining the Wartburg family eventually as a student, she laughingly replied over her sashbook, "Yes, if I make it through this business course!"

Though her position is new, Mrs. Slack has had contact with Wartburg College previously. She is the mother of 1959 Wartburg graduate, Wayne Slack, who is now coaching at Traer High School. Mrs. Slack's daughter-in-law since last June, the former Irma Steffins, lived in Wartburg Hall two years ago.

Citing no grievances, Mrs. Slack points out with assurance that "eventually everything will work out."

Convos Honoring Dedication To Be Held

Four dedicatory convocations honoring the completion of the new chapel-auditorium are scheduled for this fall, according to Dr. Clifford Hanson, Convocations Committee chairman.

The convocations will illustrate the four main uses of the building. Dr. Frederik Schoitz, president of The American Lutheran Church, will represent the worship phase when he appears Oct. 6.

Drama will appear Oct. 25 in the person of Philip Hanson, who will give a one-man Shakespearean show entitled "Kings and Clowns." Soulima Stravinsky, concert pianist and son of the composer Igor Stravinsky, will represent the musical use of the auditorium Nov. 3.

The fourth use of the building, that of academic purposes, was outlined Tuesday by Dr. Theodore Diestler, executive director of the Association of American Colleges, in his lecture on "The Role of the Christian College."

Parish Institutes Start Tomorrow

Parish Education Institutes will be held Sept. 25 and Oct. 2 on the Wartburg campus.

An expected 250 to 300 people from the Waverly-Waterloo vicinity will be on hand to take part in the day-long institute, according to H. C. Engelbrecht, college business manager.

Science Building, Dorm Discussed

Preliminary plans for a science building and further plans for a new women's dormitory were discussed at the Building Committee meeting Thursday.

Wartburg Pres. C. H. Becker was authorized to proceed with the dormitory plans. The first blueprints arrived this week.

Barber Will Offer 2nd Concert Here

1,050 Enroll Here

The total number of students registered at Wartburg by Friday stands at 1,050, according to Registrar Mattie K. Harms.

This includes 577 upperclassmen and 430 freshmen for a total of 1,007 full-time students. Forty-three students are attending part-time or special courses. Registration closes Monday.

Monthly Lectures By English Staff Will Begin Wed.

A series of monthly lectures on contemporary figures in American and European literature will begin next Wednesday, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m.

The first lecture, tentatively scheduled for the audio-visual room in the library, is to be given by Dr. Edwin Sandberg, head of the English Department, on "The Comic Spirit in S. J. Perelman."

Three of the future lectures, which will be given by other members of the English Department, will be concerned with Dylan Thomas, a Welsh poet; Albert Camus, a French author; and John Betjeman, an English poet.

The lectures are intended to be a supplement of the regular English courses, and they are being given "to permit students to become acquainted with contemporary writers not usually studied."

Following the lectures and discussion, a committee of students majoring in English will serve coffee.

Due to Christmas vacation in December and semester examinations in January, lectures will be discontinued during these months.

Wartburg's English majors met last Tuesday and agreed to provide refreshments at the monthly lecture series being sponsored by the English Department.

Andrea Richardson, senior, was elected chairman of the group, and Tom Maik, senior, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Group Sponsors Debate Watching

First of three television debates between presidential candidates Richard Nixon and John Kennedy will be the center of a program sponsored by Alpha Chi Monday.

Students may watch the debates beginning at 8 p.m. in Grossmann Hall Lounge, according to Dave Grube, president. Mrs. Florence Hertlein, Political Science Department, will give brief introductory remarks about voting requirements as they particularly apply to Wartburg students.

Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic society, will sponsor the viewing of all three debates this fall.

Chris Barber, Dixieland artist from England, will again appear at Wartburg this fall, according to an announcement made at the first meeting of the Student Senate Monday.

In other senate action, Homecoming Chairman Don Poppen gave a report, and solons discussed having class meetings once a month. If a class so desired, it could hear reports on student government from its representatives.

Barber, with his seven-piece band and one vocalist, will give a concert in the chapel-auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 7. Alpha House has volunteered to handle the publicity, according to Fred Mai, Student Body president.

"WE THINK that there should be a good turnout," commented Mai.

The Barber performance, which is being billed as the fall pops concert, will be financed by the pops concert fund. Tickets will be sold in the cafeteria and at the performance.

PRESENTLY TOURING the United States, Barber and his group gave a concert at Wartburg last fall. One of his most popular arrangements, "Petite Fleur," sold over a million recordings in this country several years ago.

Completing the round of student government activities was the Student Body meeting held yesterday. It was voted to have a campus chest this year.

Other items on the agenda were a Homecoming report by Poppen, a health insurance report by Bob Albers, junior senator, and election of cheerleaders.

Out of the 17 who tried out for the cheerleading positions, six were chosen by the Student Body. They are sophomores Esther Bahlmann and Dorothy Carstensen; juniors Darrell Briggs, Diane Daggett and Marilyn Rugroden; and senior Bob Moeller.

Two To Attend Meet Of College Presidents

Dr. John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty, and H. C. Engelbrecht, assistant to the president, will leave tomorrow to attend a meeting of the Association of Iowa College Presidents at Lake Okoboji.

Engelbrecht will represent Dr. C. H. Becker, president of Wartburg College, since President Becker is scheduled to be in Flanagan, Ill., on a fundraising trip, Sunday through Tuesday.

2 Receive Award

Two freshmen shared the Diamond Jubilee Music Scholarship this year.

Jayne Christensen, DeWitt, and Allen Mardorf, Manson, will each receive one free private music lesson a week during second semester. Both are pianists. Tryouts were completed Wednesday.

MRS. SLACK and Sherrie chat with a group of "their girls."

"There are unlimited possibilities for a good education here at Wartburg," she added. "I know from my son's experience here. I think Wartburg is a good school."

Evidence of Mrs. Slack's success at Wartburg is demonstrated in her warm, wholehearted acceptance by the Wartburg Hall girls. Their comments run as follows:

"She is truly wonderful."

"Mrs. Slack is all I could hope for in a housemother."

"I could never get homesick with someone as nice as she around."

"She seems to like everybody."

So Wartburg has a new mom.

EDITORIAL—

Academic Growth First

Now that you have all been properly welcomed, and are beginning to get back into the swing of college life, we might stop and analyze the reasons why we are here, or more specifically, we should deal with the question, "What should I gain from my years at Wartburg?"

John Masefield said, "There are few earthly things more beautiful than a college. It is a place where those who hate ignorance may strive to know . . . where seekers and learners alike, banded together in the search for knowledge, will honor thought in all its finer ways . . . will uphold ever the dignity of thought and learning and will exact standards in these things."

He is saying that the strongest bond between students is love of learning, and their common goal is the attainment of knowledge.

This is the purpose of a college education, to make the student think. Once a person acquires the attribute of thought, a logical follow-up is the questioning of things formerly accepted without consideration, such as authority.

As Dr. Theodore Diestler said in Tuesday's convocation, the liberal arts trained person will not blindly submit to authority; he dares to be different.

He went on to state that a college defeats its purpose if it defeats valued judgments on the part of students.

Judging from the impeccability of the rest of Dr. Diestler's speech, there was a reason for putting the phrases of the following sentence the way he did. His closing idea was that the goal of a college student is to attain the highest possible achievement in intellect, body and spirit.

Thus, if a college is to be a community of thinkers, striving for the high goal of wisdom, it would appear that academic growth is of more vital interest than spiritual development. Not that spiritual growth isn't necessary, but it isn't the primary concern of any institution of higher learning.

Wartburg is proud to call itself a Christian liberal arts college. Sometimes in the atmosphere that prevails here the liberal arts seems somewhat overshadowed by the Christian.

Our primary reason for being here is to acquire an ability to think and reason.

—C. J.

Students whose birthdays are in September are in the same boat with those whose birthdays fall during the summer or vacations, at least so far as getting cakes from the Wartburg Women's Club is concerned. According to Mrs. E. A. Schick, president of the club, the cake program explained in last week's Trumpet cannot get under way until October.

As New York and Pittsburgh continue to roll toward their league championships, it appears that the 1960 World Series will not be "for the birds" — the Cardinals and Orioles in particular.

The beanies may be orange, but the people under them are still green.

Soph Attends World Meet

By Phil Truckenbrod
(Truckenbrod, a sophomore, represented the National Lutheran Council at the World Council of Churches European Ecumenical Youth Assembly in Lausanne, Switzerland, last July. The following are his main impressions of the assembly.)

" . . . We are the 'faithful' who tolerate the incompetence and irrelevance in youth work and nurture the collective adult ego which seeks to perpetuate itself and its traditions."

The nearly two thousand young adults who heard these words last July had gathered from all parts of the world in Lausanne, Switzerland, under the auspices of the World Council of Churches for 10 days of ecumenical discussion and "fireworks."

"We come as Christians, but we are also bourgeois materialists whose faith is in the technology and luxury which dominates our lives, and though we go through the motions of 'religion,' we ignore the dynamics of a living faith in a risen Savior."

With the indictment of these words by Andrew Young of the United States in mind, the delegates turned their attention with enthusiasm and seriousness to the challenging goal of the Assembly as set forth by the World Council of Churches' General Secretary, Dr. W. A. Visser 't' Hooft.

"We must recapture the faith and vision that lies at the heart of the ecumenical movement and that not only for ourselves but for our local congregations. That faith is that the church of Christ is by its very nature one single people of God, constantly gathered together and united in Christ."

"That vision sees the church universal overcoming all man-made separations and so becoming the great force of reconciliation within divided humanity."

The "scandal of the church's division" was interpreted by men such as Dr. N. G. Nissiotis of France.

"The division of the Church . . . appears as a final fall, this time in the heart of the church."

"Instead of the light of the Holy Spirit, we have today the reflection of superficial glory, partisan propaganda, reciprocal opposition, all of which have their own theological systems where apologetic to polemical reasoning prevail."

How does this division affect the truth of the Assembly's theme: "Jesus Christ, The Light of The World"? " . . . The light of the church is that of a broken mirror: partial, limited."

A divided church is to be found not only on the world level, but also in our local congregations, the delegates were told by Germany's Ernst Lange.

"The division between the different generations is just as great a scandal as that between the denominations. And it is just as fatal."

An expected emotional undercurrent was apparent in the Assembly's interdenominational and international discussion groups.

TIME Magazine (Aug. 1), in a saddening display of sensational journalism, reported: "In the emotional drive for unity, the delegates even ignored the well-laid plans of their elders, who had promised certain of the participating denominations . . . that there would be no celebration of common Communion."

The impromptu common Communion service which gained so much attention from the watching religious world was sparked by Dutch educator Johannes Hoekendijk when he admonished the Assembly:

"For God's sake be impatient and begin to do the 'impossible' thing. For instance, the wise will consider it unwise and 'impossible' to disregard your confessional loyalty. I ask you to do it."

"There will be no movement in the ecumenical movement unless we are ready to step out of our traditions. And there will be no unity until we are ready to die as a Reformed, Lutheran, Orthodox in the expectant hope of a resurrection in the presence of Christ and His one Church . . . for God's sake be impatient and begin to do the impossible thing of inter-communion."

Adequate Communion opportunity had been planned for delegates including a State Lutheran Church of Sweden Mass for Lutherans and Anglicans. Many delegates did, however, gather for an unplanned and unsanctioned interdenominational Communion service in Lausanne's St. Francois Cathedral late in the Assembly. The move appeared to many as a demonstration of youthful ecumenical zeal rather than a serious religious worship.

The total impression given the public by reports such as that in TIME, however, are unjustifiable and lack insight into the peculiar seriousness of youthful minds.

The Assembly's worth and impression of the church is recorded in a well-written draft of the findings of the discussion groups. This paper reflects many insights gained by the delegates into present-day churchmanship, including some much needed thought on the political and economical aspects of modern Christianity.

"We have agreed . . . that the service of reconciliation directly rooted in the work of Jesus Christ has nonetheless a clear political aspect."

"In the era of mass media, of psychological propaganda and thinking in terms of slogans, reconciliation must operate in terms of personal involvement in public life, where the Church acts as watchman."

THAT BIG FIRST WEEK

Is it just imagination, or did everyone else have a glamorous job this summer? My big construction job adventures seem pretty tame now that all you camp counselors, canoe trippers and world travelers are back on the scene.

It looks from here as if both Kennedy and Nixon could pick up a few pointers right here on the Wartburg campus. Both would blush for shame at hearing some of the local politicians wheel and deal for low priority numbers at registration. (Mine was 537—shows you how clever I am.)

With all the above-mentioned politicians, the campus still found room for a few comedians. Witness this dialogue from an 8 a.m. philosophy section:

Dr. Hanson: "What is beauty?"

Student: "Whatever I think is beautiful is beautiful."

Dr. Hanson: "Where do you find it?"

Student: "Everywhere."

Dr. Hanson: "What isn't beautiful?"

Student: "A battlefield."

Dr. Hanson: "Who thinks a battlefield with lots of bodies lying around is beautiful?"

Voice: "General Custer did, I think."

Free advice to conference football opponents:

Look out for the educated toe of Dennis Krominga. Word has it the big guy spent all summer kicking ping-pong balls into a tin can from the 50-yard line.

"We Want Your Dirty Clothes"

Knight-Norse Tangle Today

By Tom Kuckkahn
and Darrell Jobman

The Luther College Norsemen invade Schield Stadium today at 1:30 p.m. with one of their strongest teams in years. As was the case last year, the winner of this game will have the inside track toward the coveted conference championship.

Last year the Jomen thoroughly outclassed the Norskies 26-0, but the situation is a little different this year. Luther has a big, experienced line returning while the Knights lost many of their front-line stalwarts via graduation.

LUTHER'S LITTLE All-American fullback, Brad Hustad, was also lost on the graduation trail as was the entire Viking backfield. However, the new backfield seems to have its job mastered well, for the Norsemen dumped LaCrosse 33-14 two weeks ago and last week downed a powerful Buena Vista squad 29-7.

The game may turn out to be a defensive battle. Last week Luther's defense was outstanding and almost perfect as it limited BV to 53 yards rushing in the second half. The Knights also have an excellent defensive squad. They proved this last week by scoring two points while holding Simpson scoreless.

THE KNIGHTS will be more experienced at the leadership spot, the quarterback position, with Marv Ott, who holds the school total offensive record of 2,359 yards gained. Luther's top field general, Al Fedge, graduated.

Wartburg Knights don't dare relax after the Luther game this afternoon.

Next on the list of opponents is Parsons, one of three teams head coach Norm Johansen mentioned would be toughest in the conference. The game is a Friday night affair at Parsons, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Give A Cheer

"W-A-R-T-B-U-R-G," shout five of the six newly elected cheerleaders. They will appear at the Luther game today. Going through the motions are Darrell Briggs, Esther Bahlmann, Marilyn Rugroden, Bob Moeller and Diane Daggett. Dorothy Carstensen is the sixth cheerleader.

ALTHOUGH PARSONS had only a 3-7 record and finished fifth in the conference last year, the Wildcats will be much tougher this season. Twenty-five lettermen returned this fall, 10 of them in the backfield, to give Parsons some solid depth.

In a season of rebuilding last year, five of Parsons' seven defeats were by less than a touchdown. Wartburg beat Parsons 26-7 last year.

LEADING THE Kelly Greens this year are fullback Don Butterbaugh, the squad's leading ground gainer and scorer last year, and all-conference tackle Chuck Dostal, who led the league in tackles last year.

Last night Parsons was host to Buena Vista, another title contender.

CHALK TALK

By Tom Kuckkahn

"Break down the walls of tradition" was the topic of much heated discussion on the Wartburg campus last year as students began seriously to present their disapproval of certain college policies.

Change became an important word. As I view the present sports scene, I can see various changes which have occurred from last year.

The big change will come this afternoon when Wartburg's Student Body president presents the Axe to the Luther College SBP. The Axe was at home in the Knights' trophy case the past year, but now, due to Luther's supremacy over Wartburg last year, it will again change hands.

The Norsemen rolled up 487½ points to Wartburg's 312½. The Iowa Conference has added a welcome change to the football scene. All I.C. games will be officiated by four officials rather than the three of past years.

Football coach Norm Johansen, concerned about the depth problem on his squad this year, was forced to necessitate a change. He has moved two former linemen, Wayne Dreier and Chuck Walin, into his backfield to provide needed power.

Freshman football players have instituted a welcome change in the Clinton Hall pep rallies. In the past, football players living in the dorm did not participate in the rallies.

Last week almost all the frosh padmen turned out to enhance the strength of the group. Bob Wachholz, promising end, turned in an excellent job on the bongos.

Orv McElfresh, another end, helped the band by playing the cymbals. This week Don (Hank) Sowers, outstanding defensive artist on the Knight squad, even got into the act, as he gave a pep talk at the rally. The latest word is he's working on a pep talk to be presented to the Student Body.

Change can also be seen in and around the athletic field. Schield Stadium has been enlarged to keep pace with the ever-increasing Student Body. Coach Ax Bundgaard welcomed his largest cross-country team in Wartburg's history early last week.

Here's hoping this change continues, so that the Axe will soon be back in our trophy case.

Band, Choir And Singers Acquire 87 New Members

Eighty-seven students were admitted to the campus music organizations this week.

Twenty-eight freshmen were admitted to the Wartburg Choir.

Broken down into sections, the group includes sopranos Carol Belau, Rosalie Froelich, Marie Kammerer, Ruth Kanning, Karen Schardt, Kay Doeringsfeld, Donna Ostendorf and Doreen Oldaker.

New altos are Carol Johnson, Ellen Olson, Lois Remmers, Bonnie Bakkum and Rosalie Gutknecht.

Richard Arrasmith, Charles Johnson, W. John Ferguson, Merlin Kuhlman, Stanley Lillich and Stephen Smith are the additions to the tenor section.

Freshmen Wolfgang Boehnke, William Dietz, Steve Kutschat, Roger Rapp, James Steinbrecher, Roger Ehlert, Edward Schader, Paul Wilken and James Zeller were added to the bass section.

Joining the choir during the summer were sophomore Juline Duis and junior Audra Jacober.

Thirty-eight freshmen survived competition to join the 1959-1960 college bands.

The list includes Catherine Garner, Phyllis Akers, Elizabeth Janssen, Connie Jo Gaard, August Knoll, Sandra Madsen, Karen Wilken, Art Schildebach, William Davis, Ken Friday, Cynthia Rohn,

Judy Borleske, John Groh, Bonnie Stufflebeam, Ruth Rebelein, Dan Leggett, Ron Stille, Ed Timm, Ron Streeb, Frieda Schmitz, William Babcock, Nick Pape, James Messick, Ken Schneider, Ken Steege, Yvonne DeTroy, Marlys Miller. Jim Tjaden, Darlene Kjemus, Roberta Bischoff, Jayne Christensen, Norma Neesen, Andrea Bartman, Harold Heeren and Rae Blevins.

Castle Singers have received 21 new members.

Junior Myrna Zirk, sophomore Helen Humann and freshmen Margery Meyer, Beverly Haferbier and Marjo Hummel make up the new sopranos.

Sophomores Mary Kuenzie and Lois Busboom, along with freshmen Janet Kay Walendy, Myra Pals, Marianne Lang, Janice Hilleman, Karen Kruger, Bonnie Loufek and Jana Sue Bogaard, are the new additions to the alto section.

New tenors are sophomore Melvin Harper and junior George Mikos, as well as two freshmen, Keith Johnson and Richard Braun. Freshmen Jerry Potter, Art Wienke and Gerald Franzen have joined the bass section.

Luther Play Cast Picked This Week

The cast for the pageant drama "Martin Luther, Protestant" was selected this week.

Senior Bruce Bergquist will play the title role in the drama, which will be presented Oct. 30. According to Director Vernon Les-trud, the program is under the auspices of Wartburg College and the Waterloo Council of Churches.

The part of John Tetzel must still be cast.

NOTICE: All organization presidents and publicity chairmen!! You may now reserve valuable advertising space for your organization in this column. This is available merely by notifying this columnist. The space is limited and in great demand, so get your orders in early.

And now for the news, after which we will have another word from our sponsor.

A note from the past is a report that Chi Rho held a successful meeting last Sunday. About twenty freshmen applied for membership, according to Del Klover, president.

Now looking ahead to the future, Mission Fellowship will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Clinton Hall Lounge. The speaker will be Ron Schardt, a Wartburg senior and newly returned New Guinea Mission Builder. He will give a slide talk on his experiences there.

Alpha Chi will hold its first meeting in Fuchs Lounge Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Mostly business, the president said.

Here's an item for those of us still interested in food. The Lutheran Student Association is being so kind as to hold a cost supper Sunday night. (You have to buy your own then, anyway.) Those who wish to indulge should meet in front of the chapel-auditorium at 4:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome. There will also be a short meeting and a vespers service led by the Rev. Robert Dell.

And for the athletically inclined girls, the Women's Athletic Association is meeting Wednesday night at the gym, of course. Mostly business, there, too.

Pi Sigma will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Centennial Hall Lounge. There will be a special program for freshman girls. However, all Wartburg women are invited.

Student Education Association will meet Monday night in the Little Theater at 7:15.

And now for that word from our sponsor I promised you: Want to be popular? Want to be the person "in the know"? Read your Trumpet.
